

Examples of nazi marches in Scandinavia

Background:

Once a year bussloads of nazis from all over Scandinavia arrives the little town of Lund, Sweden. They come to march in honour of Karl the 12., who is burried there. Despite peoples disgust and negative media coverage, the nazi community is still growing.

This year we want to give the town a visit just before the nazis arrive. With the help of posters and banners we want to make sure this years march becomes a bit different.

We think the new surroundings will provide great fottage for the press, and let people see the nazis in a different way than they are used to.
