The image features a hand holding a newspaper, set against a background of thick, textured brushstrokes in shades of grey and white. The newspaper is held in a way that its pages are slightly curved, and the text on the pages is partially visible but mostly obscured by the hand and the overlaid text. The headline 'Degreasing palms since 1847.' is written in a clean, white, sans-serif font, centered over the newspaper. The overall composition suggests a connection between journalism and social or environmental issues.

Hey politicians,
You know when
someone points
two fingers
at their eyes
and then back
at a person to let them know
they're watching them?
We're doing that
to You.
